

An aerial photograph of a city, likely Dublin, showing a dense urban landscape with a large green field in the foreground. The field is divided into several sections, possibly for sports or recreation. In the background, a river flows through the city, with various buildings and structures along its banks. The overall scene is a mix of urban development and green space.

We Are Recruiting!

The GDA is recruiting for several vacancies and looking to set up a number of panels for various roles. The individuals will need a recognised relevant third level or professional qualification in the various disciplines with satisfactory relevant experience.

Construction Management/Engineer/Architect

The Project Co-ordinator will be responsible for the procurement of design and construction works for specific building projects, and ensuring the proper supervision of works to successful completion and handover of the building to the relevant end user. The Project Co-ordinator may also be responsible for overarching aspects or themes relating to the successful delivery of the Grangegorman Project e.g. sustainability, car parking, transport and/or providing on-site support and monitoring as appropriate.

Communications Officer

The role of the Communications Officer is to ensure that stakeholders are properly consulted with on all aspects of the project and to ensure that they are kept up to date with the development. As the project moves into a new delivery phase we are looking for someone who can represent the Agency and maintain and improve on good working relationships with others, identify their needs and be receptive and responsive to their queries. The GDA are looking for a candidate who will effectively network, build relationships and engage with people and to apply judgement and demonstrate flexibility in a challenging environment.

Assistant Engineer

An Assistant Engineer with a degree or equivalent in a construction-related civil & building projects discipline is required to work alongside Project Co-ordinators. You will work as part of a project-based team, supporting them with responsibility for design and construction of projects and their delivery.

Details of the roles are available on www.ggda.ie

The closing date for receipt of applications is 20th January 2020. For more information and how to apply, visit recruitment on www.ggda.ie
